SPACE

FOR US ALL

The ISDC 2026 Conference Program includes four morning plenary sessions, four lunches and four dinners featuring keynote speakers, an exhibit hall, poster sessions, NSS Space Settlement Contest, book signing and much more for executives, managers, industry professionals, entrepreneurs, young professionals, students, and space leaders and space enthusiasts. Thought leaders in the space industry will share about past, current and upcoming innovations. The International Space Development Conference, now in its 44th year, is the premiere event of the National Space Society. Through the education and development of future generations, the primary goal of the NSS is to enable the expansion of humanity into the solar system and promote the utilization of the vast resources in space to dramatically improve life on Earth.

About the National Space Society (NSS)

Buzz Aldrin at ISDC 2015
Toronto, Canada

NSS is an independent, educational, membership, nonprofit organization dedicated to the creation of spacefaring civilization. NSS is widely acknowledged as the preeminent citizen's voice on Space, with over 30,000 members and supporters, and a vibrant network of international chapters. The Society publishes the Ad Astra magazine, an award-winning periodical chronicling the most important developments in space.

NSS also actively recruits the next generation of young people to encourage their interest in STEM, developing math and science skills and foster their interest in becoming a part of the next generation of scientists, astronauts, and explorers. Your financial and sponsorship support can further assist us with this worthwhile goal. To learn more, visit nss.org.

Demographic Data

- NSS members receive the Society's quarterly print magazine, Ad Astra and an additional distribution of 12,000 magazines are distributed annually.
- Half of all members have college or graduate degrees.
- Most have higher than average discretionary incomes (top 20%).
- Approximately 40-50 percent are between 30 and 60 years of age.
- Another 10-20 percent are under 30 years of age.
- NSS actively engages and recruits college-age students.
